Nifty Spot Chart

Technical Outlook

Tracking mixed global cues, Nifty Index started the day on flat note, but after RBI monetary policy the markets picked up the momentum and climbed till the high of 14879 and finally closed the day at 14819 mark gaining nearby a percent. On the technical parameters, Index almost retested the key hurdle placed at 14900 levels, but once again failed to cross that. Hence, going forward breakout of 14900 could provide a sharp surge in the index till 15100 then 15200 levels of descending trend channel. Else, Index would continue to consolidate in the range of 14400 - 14900 levels. The RSI (14) is still consolidating in a subdued range and stochastic oscillator has headed till overbought zone levels of 80. Global markets are on a mixed note and SGX up around 65 indicating positive start for domestic markets.

Bank Nifty Spot Chart

Technical Outlook

Bank Nifty witnessed a weak opening on Wednesday and made low of 32141 mark in the early hours. But soon after it reclaimed from the lows and gradually moved higher till the end finally settled at 32991 mark with 1.5% gains. Index which slipped below 2019 high of 32600 levels on Tuesday has reclaimed above it and edged till the immediate trend line resistance placed at 33500. Ahead if index surpass above trend line resistance of 33500 then it could negate the bearish trend. The momentum indicator RSI (14) and stochastic oscillator both are hovering near the oversold zone levels. Thus going forward, a convincing cross above 33500 may provide some rebound till 34000 the 34500 levels in coming sessions.
