VIEW - BOOK PROFITS

TITAN fundamentally a strong company has been a mutli – bagger with compounded earnings of 20% over a long-term period. It has ample opportunities for growth, given its sub-10% market share in Jewellery and the ongoing challenges faced by its unorganised and organized peers. Its medium-to-long-term earnings growth potential is unparalleled as it is well placed to gain due to network expansion, regional thrust and hallmarking benefit. Omni-channel strategy across jewellery, watches and eyewear, new growth drivers like Caratlane, TitanEye+, Taneira and entry into high growth segments like smart watches, over the head headphones and Truly Wireless earphones. Its attractiveness as a portfolio stocks comes from low market share in a large addressable market and wide gap versus competition and focus on keeping its lead. Short term investor intending to BOOK PROFITS can go ahead while long term investors can continue to stay invested with the stock trading at P/E 62.7x FY25E (FY25E- RoE/ RoCE - 29.8%/18.4%) as the growth prospects looks good on a medium to longer term horizon.
