MCX Gold (1,54,882): Forms a 'Doji'; Daily momentum positive.

MCX Gold extended its winning streak for the seventh consecutive session, although an indecisive Doji indicates some supply at higher levels. Despite this, the daily structure remains firmly bullish, with buying interest emerging on dips. The short-term 10 DEMA is likely to act as key support, and the positive momentum is expected to persist as long as this level holds.

For the day, the outlook remains positive, with immediate support at 151,450 and resistance at 158,600-160,700. The outlook will require a review on sustained weakness below 150,000, while sustained strength above the resistance zone could extend the ongoing uptrend.

MCX Silver (2,37,835): Forms a bearish Harami; Daily momentum positive.

MCX Silver ended the previous session on a positive note but formed a bearish Harami pattern, indicating some supply at higher levels. The 242,000 level is currently acting as a supply zone; however, the daily structure remains positive, supported by rising EMA lines and a firm RSI. Sustained strength above 242,000 could attract fresh buying and extend the rally towards higher resistance levels.

MCX Crude Oil (7,928): Lacks directional Baise.

MCX Crude Oil ended its four-session winning streak in the previous session, closing lower amid elevated volatility and a lack of clear directional bias. Sideways price action with sharp moves on both sides is likely to persist, warranting a disciplined risk-management approach. The price remains above the short-term DEMA lines and the falling resistance trendline, keeping the near-term bias positive, albeit with lower conviction.

For the day, the outlook remains positive, with immediate support at 7,700 and resistance at 8,250-8,500. The outlook will require a review on sustained weakness below 7,650, while sustained strength above the resistance zone could reinforce the positive bias.
